AC102EU-Acuity Technical Maintenance

Venue
Varian Medical Systems UK Ltd
Gatwick Road, Crawley, West Sussex RH10 9RG, United Kingdom

Duration
5 days

Target audience
In-house engineers who are responsible for the Acuity on-site.

Prerequisites
Participation in an AC101EU-Acuity Support course. Knowledge of safety practices relative to high voltage X-Ray systems and basic understanding of microprocessors.

Instructors
Qualified Technical Support Engineers with a broad of experience on Acuity and Digital Imaging.

Aim
This course provides configuration information, schematic review, practical troubleshooting and image optimization. Practical application of lecture topics will be emphasized and sufficient lab time allowed for individual participation in hands-on exercises.

Program
- Learn and practice Acuity Configuration/Setup.
- Introduction to the Acuity Schematics to get an extensive understanding of the System Architecture.
- Acuity troubleshooting to understand the product in order to have a better overview of the entire system.
- Integrated CPI Generator Configuration/Setup and troubleshooting.
- Imaging System Configuration/Setup and troubleshooting.
- CBCT Configuration/Setup and troubleshooting.

Course Language
English

For further information please contact your local office.

EMEIA Course Information can be found on www.varian.com/emea-trainings